RANDOM PONDERINGS

One of my intentions for 2009 is to write this newsletter every month.

My devotions will appear as a blog on MySpace that can be accessed by the links on this page. The devotion for this month is "What Will Happen in 2009?"

I have tried to adjust the format in which this newsletter is sent so that the formatting is kept.

SINGLES MINISTRY

Circumstances and situations lead me to close my teaching of the Singles Alive @ Beaverton Christian Church. My last day was Dec. 21, 2008. It was a good ministry for two years and I enjoyed the group.

I continue to my leadership with the Westside Singles Ministry. We have good schedule for 2009 and look forward to what God will bring to the lives of those who participate with us.

CALL OUTS

<http://www.nwsca.org>

I got my C.E.U.'s in order and the application filled out for ICPC Senior Chaplain credential. I have not had my interview yet or heard from the committed yet, but I expect that will happen soon. This is the first year that ICPC has rearranged the format for when they issued those credentials, I am just waiting for them to get what they do arranged.

Recently I attended the memorial service for Chaplain Lou Twist. Lou is responsible for getting me involved in police chaplaincy. Lou's influence on the lives of officers and other chaplains was evidenced by those who attended and what they shared by testimony.

One call out was for a deceased man in early fifties with no family locally. His co-workers were calling him and got no answers and no return calls, so they called the police for a welfare check. It is tough to be waiting outside your friend's house as the police enter to find him deceased. These friends acted as if they were family in their concern for him. The point is not to forget your friends. Keep those valued relationships in tact, build trust with those people. You may not know when that trust will be needed.

Take Care.

"Do not repay evil for evil or abuse for abuse; but on the contrary, repay with a blessing. It is for this that you were called—that you might inherit a blessing."
